LAW AGAINST THE SALE OF COCAINE

May Not Sell to Others Than Also James Smith-A Short Doctors, Druggists and Dentists.

The revelations brought about by Policemen Amos and Shepherd about the sale of cocaine to boys has occasioned much concern among the druggists.

The law concerning the sale of the polson, as well as all kindred drugs, is clear in some particulars. Most of the druggists use the utmost care in selling the stuff, and some of them put the price so high that it is almost impossible to so high that it is almost impossible to get it. The general rule is to sell only on prescriptions from physicians, and then not to renew the old prescription, but to require a new one.

Mr. T. A. Miller has secured a copy

Mr. T. A. Miller has secured a copy of the law which was approved March 5, 1994. He will have it printed for distribution among the druggists and pharmacists. In speaking of it last night, Mr. Miller said there were some things in the law that were not clear, and that the board of pharmacy would in its next meeting discuss the law and propose certain amendments at the next meeting of the Legislature.

of the Legislature.

The law prohibits the sale of morphine or opium or any preparation of either drug, except on the prescription of a licensed physician, containing a larger per centeum of opium than laudanum, and that no prescription can be refilled without a new prescription can be refilled without a new prescription. All labels must be marked "poison," and have at least two effective antidotes printed thereon. Neither shall any druggist under the Neither shall any druggist under the law "sell or furnish cocaine to any person other than a licensed physician, sur-and strong. No private citizen is permitted to buy it. Only doctors, dentists, our drugists, not even a veterinarian.

The penalty is a fine of from $25 to $100 for each offense.

The law further points that "any person furnishing or causing to be furnished morphine or any other drug to a person who is an habitue and under treatment who is an habitue and under treatment or having been under treatment for same, shall be subject to the penalty."

The various cases that have been brought before Justice Crutchfield will be heard on the 5th of April, and the result is watched with interest.

KING CASE SETTLED.

Former Alderman Will Serve His Full Term in Jail.

His Full Term in Jail.

It seems pretty well settled that there will be no further move on the part of the friends of former Alderman John M. King, whose sentence Governor Montague refused to commute the other day, and whose every application for a writ of error has been rejected by the State and Federal Courts, for his release from Jail, but that he will spend the next six months behind lonely prison bars. The netion of the Governor in the matter has been almost universally commended, and the paper issued by His Excellency on the subject is called a strong and flawless one. The Executive has always held these views on municipal scandal and official corruption, and their expression in the King case was no surprise to those who know him well.

LOUISVILLE, March 30.—Coples of a will left by Colonel C. M. Strader, U. S. A., retired, who died on March 5th, in St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia, have been received by soveral business men of Louisville, his birth-place, there to be scattered on the waters of the Ohio River.

There are many improvements that the city engineer could do 'ff he could get

THE PASSOVER.

Celebration of Great Hebrew Festival Began on Yesterday.

Festival Began on Yesterday.

The Jewish Feast of the Passover began last night with services held at 6 P. M. at Beth Ahaba Synagogue. The services will be continued to-day at 10:45 in the morning. Rabbi Calisch will preach on the subject, "The Power of Self-Redemption."

The feast falls on the 15th day of the month of Nissan and lasts seven days. This date coincides this year with Thursday. March 31st. The first and last days only of the festival are marked by special public worship, though throughout the week the feast is to be observed by the eating of unleaven bread. The feast commemorates the redemption of Israel from Egyptian bondage and the exodus of the Jews from the land of the Pharaohs. It teaches the idea of freedom, emphasizing the thought that God is the Redemer of the human race, and that He has decreed against all tyranny and oppression. The eve of the first day is celebrated with a service at home, called Leder, at which the incidents of the redemption from Egypt are rehearsed. The eating of unleaven bread was formerly far more strictly observed than a present, there being absolutely no leavened bread or cake in the house. The festival is so kept to-day by the more strictly observant, but in many homes it less rigidly kept, ordinary bread being permitted in connection with the unleavened.

Club, Lamb's New Secretary.

It was learned last night on excellent authority that Congressman John Lamb has named Mr. H. M. Tyler, of this city, as his private secretary, to succeed Major A. S. Lanier, who recently resigned to accept a position with the State Corporation Commission.

It is not known whether the appointment of Mr. Tyler to a place in Washington has any broader significance than is shown upon its face, but he is the president of the Hearst Club in Richmond, and his now duties will at least place him in closer touch with his favorite for the presidency. While the announcement of Mr. Tyler's appointment is not officially made, it is almost certainly true that he has been named and that he will assume charge of his new duties at once.

TAWNEY BILL IS DEFEATED

Ways and Means Committee Decide Against Reporting Proposed Tobacco Measure.

GOSSIP ABOUT VIRGINIANS

Mr. Landstreet Makes New Friends; Meets Old Ones. Flood Entertains.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30 .- The voted against reporting the Tawney bill Committee on Ways and Means to-day forbidding the use of tags and coupons in the sale of tobacco in manufactured form. The vote was 8 to 4 against the bill. Four members of the committee were absent, and while their presence could not have changed the result the vote would have been closer.

I endeavored to learn from Mr. John Landstreet, of Richmond, president of the Association of Independent Tobacco Manufacturers, who has been here frequently in behalf of the bill, if an attempt would be made at the next session to secure legislation similar to that contemplated by the bill which has just been killed, but he could not say. If the members of the independent association had been united in favor of the bill, there is little doubt that it would have passed. They were a unit at the session last year, but the bill did not get through, owing, it is said, to the opposition of the American said, to the opposition of the American Tobacco Company, commonly called the Tobacco Trust, It is said that the trust has not taken any steps to defeat the bill this year, apparently thinking the opposition of members of the independent association sufficient to accomplish the result.

Mr. Landstreet will go' to New York to-night on business, and will be there everal days. Mr. Landstreet has become well known Mr. Landstreet has become well known to the members of Congress during the past year or two, as he has been here a great deal working for the anti-coupon bill. He is a resident of Richmond, but resided in Tennessee for years and was acquainted with many of the public men of that State, notably Isham G. Harris, for many years in the United States Senato, after having been the war Governor of Tennessee. Senator Harris is Mr. Landstreet's ideal of the honest man in public life.

Mr. Landstreet's father was a native of Loudoun county, and like the majority

Mr. Landstreet's father was a native of Loudoun county, and like the majority of Virginians at the outbreak of the war between the States, was a Union man of the most pronounced type. An attempt was made one night to lynch the elder Landstreet because of his opposition to secession, but h was not successful. General William H. Payne, at that time a member of the Black Horse Cavalry, knew of the attempt being made to nut a member of the Black Horse Cavalry, knew of the attempt being made to put out of the way a Union sympathizer. The first time he saw Mr. Landstreat after the attempted lynching was at the first battle of Manassas, and the former Union man had on a Confederate uni-form, and was covered with the dust of battle and the smoke of nowder. General battle and the smoke of powder. General Payne then and there apologized for the former attitude of the secessionists to-wards Mr. Landstreet, and never lost an opportunity to manifest his regard.

He came up from Annapolis, whither he went with the committee from the Virginia Legislature which has been making a tour of the waters of the Potomac, with a view to gathering information which will ald in the settlement of the vexed boundary question between the two States.

A telegram to Mr. Garnett from Annapolis stated that the boat carrying the party would leave to-day on the trip back to Norfolk.
